THE WEATHER.

The daily record of the thermometer in this city, as reported by C. W. Brandon, for yesterday was: 7 a. m., 46 degrees above; 12 m., 54 degrees above; 4 p. m., 72 degrees above; 8 p. m., 58 degrees above.

ABOUT THE CITY.

J. J. McAndrews is having a neat residence built.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Matthews have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman at Deer Lodge for the past several days.

Dr. Mussigbrod and wife will sail in a few days for Germany, where they go that the venerable doctor may receive needed medical aid.

Superintendent A. L. Stone has been elected delegate to the division encampment, Sons of Veterans, which meets at Helena next week.

Rev. B. F. Norris of the Christian church, who has been conducting services in Boulder for several days, will return to the city today and conduct services here as usual.

"Alaska," the handsome Electioneer station recently purchased in California by S. E. Larabee, arrived on Friday night in excellent condition. "Alaska" was brought out for the first time Tuesday afternoon and attracted great admiration among lovers of horse flesh. —Silver State.

The board of education met Tuesday evening and organized for the coming year. Messrs. Voss and Maxwell, the newly elected trustees, took the oath of office, and officers were elected as follows: President, Otto Stalmann; vice president, D. E. Hallahan; superintendent, A. L. Stone.

On Saturday afternoon Judge Durfee decided not to take up the court calendar again until May 2, when the calendar will be in perfect order. Notices have been sent to jurors who were to appear here on the 19th. Jurors were excused after the termination of the Penrose case, should bear this in mind. —Silver State.

W. W. Turner says late reports from the Royal mine are very cheering. The snow is so deep in the region of the property that it is not easy to get there, so that Mr. Turner has not been up to see it since his recent return from the coast; but the men employed there send down word that the mine is looking better than ever before. Some very rich ore is being taken out of a new vein which was struck about two weeks ago.

The arrangements for the firemen's ball which is to take place at Evans opera house Monday evening have all been completed, and the affair gives promise of being a brilliant success, both in a social and financial way. The boys have succeeded in dispossessing of a large number of tickets; they have engaged good music; the hall will be handsomely decorated; they have done all that they can do to justify a liberal patronage. The following committees have the affair in charge: Committee of arrangements—John Isenman, Charles Collins, J. A. Hasley, H. R. Sommerhiser, E. E. Lyman. Floor—John Isenman, director; Ben Murphy, prompter. Assistants—W. J. Stevens, R. M. Collins, Dan Dunn, W. A. Collins, James Sullivan. Reception—Charles Rice, J. N. Knox, Ben Johnson, J. H. Rowley, Frank Kinney, Hart Humber, G. B. English, Thomas Richards, G. S. E. Wisner, L. E. Surprenant, Charles Adams, T. M. Smith, James O'Neill, Theodore Hartz, George Elison, Archie Neal, F. C. Howard, Ed. McGovern, William Slaughter. Decoration—Charles Collins, H. R. Sommerhiser, Thomas Richards, J. N. Knox, G. B. English, E. E. Lyman, Ed McGovern, Charles Rice.

To whom it may concern: I hereby give notice to all persons that my wife, Fannie Thurston, has willfully and without any reasonable cause deserted and abandoned my bed and board, and is now living apart from me without my desire or consent; and that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her for any purpose whatever, I therefore warn all persons to whom she may apply not to give her any credit on my account, or to look to me for payment of any debts she may contract. C. C. THURSTON.

FIGURES THAT TALK

The Condition of the Public Schools in Anaconda.

IN SORE NEED OF ROOM

Additional Reasons Why the Bonds Should Be Voted at Next Saturday's Election.

The reports of the teachers in the public schools for the past month are in themselves a powerful argument for the erection of new school houses. In the Lincoln school there are four rooms in each of which the enrollment for the term has been above 50. In one room the enrollment has reached nearly 100 and in another it has been 85. In the High school building the conditions have been nearly as bad.

In the Fourth ward there are more than 80 pupils in the first and second grades, who have been in one room, designed to seat 40 pupils, until within two months, when one-half were transferred to a rented room. In the High school building every inch of room is utilized, the upper corridor, even, being occupied.

These figures in themselves show the absolute need of the additional room asked for.

When the High school building was erected the enrollment in the city schools was 306. The year following it had reached 612, and now there are 800 children at tending school in this city.

For successful school work, plenty of room is a necessity and the ventilation of the rooms must be the best attainable.

Without these two essentials, teachers and pupils work at a great disadvantage.

While the conditions have been so unfavorable during the present year, the teachers have without exception made the best of matters, and have worked cheerfully and willingly. Since Jan. 1 there have been at least two teachers absent from their work all of the time on account of sickness, caused in a measure by overwork in crowded school rooms. All this may be obviated by providing sufficient school room, and proper ventilation.

Every cent of the money expended for school buildings enhances the value of all real estate in the city. No city can prosper without good schools. To secure good schools we must have good teachers, good school rooms, and good equipment. The Anaconda board of education has been particularly fortunate in its selection of teachers and their work has been the best possible under the circumstances. It is not the fault of this school district that the rooms are crowded. Whenever the request has been made, the citizens have responded unanimously and cheerfully to the call for more money. There has never been any opposition to an issue of school bonds here. Three years ago there were 35 votes cast, all of which were in favor of the issue. This is an excellent showing, and the record of this city for liberality and interest in educational matters should be continued. The vote upon the question will take place next Saturday. There will be but one polling booth—at the High school building on Main street. The polls will be open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and will close at sunset.

FAGEN IS THE MAN.

Talk Concerning the New Men for the Police Force.

It is generally conceded that J. Fagen will be appointed next chief of police of Anaconda. All others who were candidates for the appointment have withdrawn in his favor, and as Mr. Fagen appears to be the choice of the democrats of this city generally, it is quite probable that he will obtain the appointment. In every way he is fitted for the place. Jack White, who was at first in the field for chief, withdrew in Fagen's favor, but White desires the appointment as assistant chief. It is thought the new council will so plan matters that the office of assistant chief of police will be created. At present the chief is on duty in the day time and the night police force is practically left without a head. It is proposed to give the chief an assistant whose authority will be recognized by the men on the force when he is not present.

White and Officers Isenman and McManus, it is understood, are the only candidates up to date for the office of assistant chief. All these gentlemen have many friends who will exert influence in their behalf. Mr. White is at present in jail in Deer Lodge, but was formerly a member of the police force in this city. When Redmond ascended the throne White lost his job along with other good men. He wants it back now that his friends have been restored to power, and there are a good many who want to see him get it. Officer Isenman, one of the best police officers that any city ever had, would take the position of assistant chief if he could get it; and there are hundreds of people in the city who would be pleased to see him promoted as a reward for his faithful service. Officer McManus, too, is a good officer and a strong candidate for the place.

ROMANCE OF A GENIUS.

Ups and Downs of the Inventor of Photo-Engraving.

NEW YORK, April 14.—John Calvin Moss, who died on the 8th inst. at his home in Brooklyn, at the age of 36, was notable as the inventor of the first practical photo-engraving process. He was born in Washington county, Pa., in 1838. Early in life he learned the printer's trade. He thought he had a chance as an artist because of a talent he had for drawing and painting, and he therefore devoted a good deal of time to the study of fine arts. He did not take kindly to painting and became a photographer, in which occupation he got sufficient support to enable him to experiment in photographic chemistry.

At 20 years he had learned of the experiment made by Nicophorus Niepce, and also of the attempts made by Prof. Grove to etch on a daguerrean plate by means of electricity. He had faith in the idea of Prof. Grove, and made a galvanic battery and set to work. His wife had worked with him in such a way that, as Mr. Moss said, success without her would have been hardly possible.

Their first order was for a printing plate which, if satisfactory, was to bring them $10. Encouraged by this success they went to New York in 1863 and struggled along for eight years, getting a few orders, but encountering suspicion and timidity and active opposition from the wood engravers, who thought the new process would destroy their livelihood. In 1872, with the aid of a clergyman, he established the Photo-Engraving company, which was successful. In 1880, Mr. Moss left this company and formed the Moss Engraving company, of which he was the head. Before Moss made his successful experiments, wood engraving, etching and steel engraving were the then methods of reproduction for illustrating magazines and the like.

To the Bottom of the Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The Pacific Mail company's steamer City of New York from Panama and way ports entered the harbor this afternoon. Everything is reported quiet at San Salvador and Guatemala. Among the passengers are Capt. Scott and the crew of the steamer West Indian, which went ashore near Acapulco several weeks ago. Ten minutes after striking, said Scott, the vessel was full of water. She sold for ten thousand dollars and ten hours afterward broke up and went out of sight.

The British Too Many for Them.

CALCUTTA, April 14.—The Lushais, who have been harassing British line communications between Lungle and Damagiri, attacked the British camps at Lushon on April 6. After four hours of fighting, they were repulsed with killed. Some of the party attacked Captain Shakespeare's column on April 7 and Lalitahua stockade on April 9. The Lushais were defeated at each occasion, the British having only five wounded.

The Union Pacific Presidency.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Reports are current today that Samuel Spencer, now with Drexel, Morgan & Co., formerly vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, would be elected president of the Union Pacific road at the coming stockholders' meeting.

Got to Take It Back.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 14.—The state executive committee of the Georgia state alliance met here to-night and unanimously passed a resolution demanding that all alliances which endorsed the people's party movement must rescind such action promptly.

A New Fire Extinguisher.

A new material, which has been introduced in England under the name of "vulite," has given some remarkable results as a fire extinguisher. For this purpose, although it is a liquid, it is much more effective than water, inasmuch as it freezes only at a very low temperature and exercises no injurious effects on fabrics or timber. A large fire made with highly inflammable materials was extinguished almost immediately by a small charge of the preparation. It is also likely to come into use as a protector for the skin for persons who are exposed to intense heat. A very convincing feature of the merits of vulite is that after it has been applied material that was previously combustible will not ignite.

There are but six survivors left of the men who for three years suffered the tortures of cold and starvation in the expedition to Lady Franklin bay. The best known of them all is Gen. A. W. Greely, now chief signal officer.

SHE WAS BOSS.

And She Defied Her Husband Either Personally or Officially.

STOCK CITY, Ia., April 14.—A farmer by the name of Greenwald, who lives in Perry township, Plymouth county, has occasional quarrels with his wife.

Greenwald is both justice of the peace and school director. The "school marm" boards at his house, and in bad weather he has frequently conveyed her home in his buggy.

It was suggested to Mrs. Greenwald that the old gentleman had been paying too much attention to the "school marm." When the old gentleman came home there was a violent "scrap," in which Greenwald was badly worsted.

The next day Greenwald, as justice of the peace, deputized his hired farm hand to arrest his wife and bring her before him. After a brief examination he ordered her to be conveyed to the county jail at Le Mars, 20 miles distant, and confined there pending an examination for insanity.

On her way to jail, however, Mrs. Greenwald whipped her custodian and started back home. She had to walk 15 miles, and was found by the neighbors in the morning scratched and bruised and utterly exhausted.

West Side Addition to Roseman.

In this issue we present the advertisement of Ike N. Smith, one of the principal owners and manager of the West Side addition, one of the finest and best additions to this city. The ground is level, within two blocks of the electric line and in proximity to many buildings already erected and soon to be built. Mr. Smith is elated over the success he had in getting hold of this addition, which commands itself to all who visit it on sight. —Roseman Chronicle.
